The NOSGA has a duty of care for all persons attending the event, 3rd parties potentially impacted by the event, the environment and the welfare of dogs and quarry. As such, ALL persons attending the event are required to read and understand the following guidelines - the signature on the entry form for the event will be considered by the NOSGA as the formal acceptance of your understanding and compliance. This will apply equally to guests who, on the day of the event, must also read and sign this document prior to commencement.

All attendees have a responsibility to behave in strictly in accordance with these requirements in order to avoid putting themselves, others or the management of the event at risk.

The Chief Steward (CS) will have full and final authority on the day for all matters relating to HSE & AW.

Live ammunition may be fired at Trials, you will be notified if this is the case. The Steward of the Beat (SoB) will be responsible for directing the line and the gallery. You are expressly required to stay in close proximity of the Flag Carrier when in the gallery. When joining or leaving the line, you will enter and leave as directed by the SoB (or a deputised person).

If an accident occurs, the event may be paused or stopped. The CS will manage the emergency response assisted by the SoB and the person in charge of First Aid. If you have professional medical expertise you should make this known to the CS who will decide on your involvement. Other participants must stay clear of the incident and permit the Emergency Response process to be implemented without interference.

You must comply with the following:

- Fire Risk - the event will be NON Smoking
- Drugs and Alcohol – on the day, are strictly forbidden prior to or during the event
- Mobile phones or Cameras - all persons attending the event must switch off mobile phones and not use these or cameras throughout the duration of a field trial. (The SOB and CS will carry a mobile phone for emergency response purposes)
- Children – under the age of 16 will be the direct responsibility of the person who has brought them to the event
- Dog fouling - dogs will be exercised only in the area provided at the meet
- Litter - must not be left at the venue
- Vehicles - the SOB will have determined the route between the meet and the ground to be used for the event and will have made best endeavours to ensure that it is safe for vehicles. Use of your own vehicle will be entirely at your own risk - NOSGA will not be responsible for any damage howsoever caused
- Anti-field sport saboteurs interference - your response must be strictly non-confrontational – verbally or physically. Guns will be made safe immediately and the Police informed.

The Club will make best endeavours prior to the event to advise participants of risks, restraints and hazards such as weather, terrain, insects, snakes, and the planned emergency response capability (participants and dogs), first aid and evacuation available on the day. This advice is for your guidance only. You should be aware that:

- Participation is based on your own assessment and is expressly at your own interpretation of the risk – which should not be confined to the guidelines provided
- Non-compliance Club guidelines may mean that that you are not covered by the NOSGA Insurance and may well liable for any issues you are deemed to have incurred.

It is everyone's responsibility to raise an appropriate alert if they observe anything which may cause a hazard or incident.
